

COUNTY BOARD APPROVES TWO SCHOOLS, SITES

The Adams County school board Monday evening gave its approval to possible sites for a high school in "Administrative Unit No. 2," an addition to the Littlestown High School and the construction of a new elementary school in Conewago Twp.

In all three cases the board was aware there will be some delay before the plans can go into effect. In the case of Littlestown High School and Conewago Twp. elementary school the delay will be caused by the state department of public instruction which has withheld approval of new construction until it can revise its procedures to be in accordance with Act 417 recently passed by the state legislature.

The new act provides that before the state can give room schedules for new construction state department officials must conduct a survey to determine the need for the new construction. If the survey shows a need then the state can approve a building to cover that need.

County Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle said planned construction which previously had at least tentative approval from the state is being held up.

Need Classrooms

Littlestown is seeking additional classrooms and enlargement of its industrial arts and home economic departments. Conewago Twp. is planning an eight-room elementary school to replace its four two-room schools. The county board was told that Conewago will have to open one room of the closed two-room school at Brunsdown in the fall to care for its increased student body. It is planning an eight-room school to handle youngsters from grades one through six. At present it instructs students from grades one through eight.

While giving approval to the new school building and addition the county board gave no indication as to the size of the proposed construction because that will depend on the results of the state's survey.

Approval was given to various suggested sites for a new high school building in "Administrative Unit No. 2" provided that proposed joint state never becomes a reality. The unit would include what is now the North Adams Joint School System and a large part of what is now the Conewago Joint School System.

Take First Step

Establishment of the Bermudian Springs jointure, which joins Reading with what is now the North Adams System, has been a step toward establishment of Administrative Unit No. 2. Representatives of East Berlin school board met Monday night with the county board and reported they are now negotiating with Bermudian Springs toward the possibility of joining that group.

At the same time William H. Hildebrand, heading the delegation from East Berlin, and other members of the board indicated that their district would prefer a jointure which would include North Adams, Conewago and Lower Adams Joint School Systems. Costs of the proposed Administrative Unit No. 2 would be much higher, the East Berlin members said, than the costs in the much larger jointure that could be formed by combining the three present jointures.

Ask New Survey

East Berlin officials presented a resolution from Conewago jointure asking the county board to conduct another survey to determine whether the various boards in the North Adams, Lower Adams Conewago jointures prefer one large jointure, or divide the present three jointures into two administrative units. In a similar survey conducted

SAYS CHERRIES NEED SPRAYING

County Agent Frank S. Zettle has called for the pre-blossom spraying on sour cherry, the spray that is started after the first blossoms open in order to protect the new cherry leaves during wet periods starting about full bloom.

Need for the spray was stressed by the county agent who held there are many spores of leaf spot fungus in old leaves and that the spores will be ready to infect the new leaves. Cultivation, even along the row, can reduce the amount of spores that can cause infection, but spraying is the principal control, he said.

A Bordeaux 1 1/2-3-100 should be used, that is 1 1/2 pounds of copper sulphate and three pounds of fresh lime per 100 gallons of spray. For concentrate sprays the amount of copper should be increased to three pounds and the amount of lime to six pounds. Bordeaux should not be applied during wet, cold weather, Zettle cautioned.

Senator Alben Barkley Dies

Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.) was smiling when he listened to radio reports in Paducah, Ky., confirming his return to the Senate during the 1954 Senatorial race. The former U. S. Barkley's Last Words

"I Would Rather Be A Servant In House Of The Lord Than To Sit In Seats Of The Mighty"

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, former vice president of the United States, collapsed and died yesterday at the speaker's platform at a university political gathering.

Barkley, 78, slumped to the floor after a keynote address to Washington and Lee University students assembled in a mock Democratic National Convention. Dr. Robert Munger, who arrived seven minutes later as ambulance attendants were attempting to administer oxygen, said he died of a heart attack.

Automotive Apparatus

"I have been in years gone by. But all fire apparatus is automotive now and not horse-drawn." Reminiscently, he recalled he'd been a delegate-at-large to every Democratic National Convention since 1920; a junior, then a senior senator; a senior senator; majority Senate leader; vice president; then junior senator again.

Burial On Friday

In accord with Barkley's wishes, a funeral service will be held tomorrow morning in Foundry Methodist Church, Washington, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Frederick Brown Harris, chaplain of the Senate. Burial will be Friday.

APPLE BLOSSOM DAY TO ATTRACT MANY ON SUNDAY

Spring and blooms are busting out all over Pennsylvania, and in Adams County 17,000 acres of fruit trees will be at their peak of bloom by Sunday—Apple Blossom Day.

Some 400 apple, cherry and peach orchards in the county's famous Appalachian fruit belt are blooming simultaneously for the first time in years. Normally, cherries and peaches precede apple blooms by about two weeks, but unseasonably cool weather this year delayed normal progress of buds until last weekend, when 80 degree temperatures pushed them to maturity almost overnight.

Roads Well Marked

Officials of the county's fruit growers' association, sponsors of Apple Blossom Time, anticipate record-breaking crowds Sunday for the annual one-day celebration, which last year attracted 25,000 people to our 20-mile Blossom Trail. Roads through the most spectacular areas of bloom will be well-marked with road signs to guide visitors over the trail. Six information-refreshment booths will be set up along the trail to greet visitors.

Charles Heinze, Allenberry Lodge, will cater a smorgasbord dinner at Blossom Headquarters, Biglerville High School, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Apple Queen Nancy Tate will preside over the festivities at headquarters, while 23 daughters of fruit growers will serve apple juice at the refreshment booths along the trails.

TELLS AUDIENCE OF 169 THAT 10 WILL RECEIVE MENTAL CARE

Dr. H. C. Eaton, superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Hospital at Harrisburg, addressed a joint meeting of Gettysburg service clubs Monday evening at the Moose Home and told his audience of 169 that 10 of them probably will spend some time in a mental hospital.

The speaker said there are now 91 Adams Countyans in the state hospital at Harrisburg and that "many more Adams Countyans have been treated there and have returned to useful lives in this community."

Dr. Eaton opened and closed his talk with a tribute to Miss Margaret McMillan, who sat on his right at the speakers' table, for her work with the mental health clinic at the Warner Hospital for nearly two decades. The speaker was introduced by Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Warner Hospital surgeon, after preliminary remarks by Dr. W. E. Tilberg, who arranged the dinner session.

Signs Of Disturbance

Describing a mentally healthy person as one who feels comfortable with himself and others and is able to meet the demands of life, Dr. Eaton said juvenile delinquency, domestic troubles and other community disturbances are signs of disturbed emotions, disturbed thinking or disturbed reactions.

He spoke of the need for treating and trying to restore mentally ill persons to useful lives and said that insulin therapy, electric shock treatments, new drugs, occupational therapy and better testing methods are shortening the time in which most patients can be restored to society. "Mental illness is not the hopeless thing it used to be," he declared.

Communities can help by seeing to it that general hospitals are "general in fact," and equipped and able to take care of many types of patients that used to have to be sent to state institutions. Treatment counts most, he said, when it is given early and 90 per cent of the mentally disturbed patients under 30 years of age are restored to useful lives. Over 60, the outlook is less hopeful. "Ignorance and fear keep some from treatment until it is too late to help them," he added.

Low Operating Rate

Pointing out that hospital care in a general hospital costs $14 to $16 a day per patient, Dr. Eaton said the state hospital tries to operate on a state allowance of $2.85 per day, a rate lower even than the penal institutions. Patients who are able make contributions toward the cost of their treatment. He said the Harrisburg hospital has 2,680 patients now and is the oldest state hospital in Pennsylvania. It was opened in 1851 with 200 patients.

PHI DELTS DO "FINE JOB" ON LOCAL PROJECTS

Members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity at Gettysburg college became a "one-day labor gang" Saturday to help out the community by putting a gleaming coat of white paint on both the inside and outside of the engine house doors, shellacking the antique inside shutters in the council room on the second floor of the engine house and painting four small barns at the Adams County Home.

With about 40 members of the fraternity taking part, the Phi Delt turned out at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and finished their self-appointed chores about 5:30 o'clock. They were commended both by the borough fathers and county officials for "doing an excellent job" in their painting efforts.

President Harold Cooper headed up the work gang. Richard Gaenzle was general chairman for the special community day projects. John Shallock and Harper Bohr were captains for the men who worked at the engine house and Charles Biehler, Lawrence Gaenzle and Robert Little captained the work at the county home.

Many Other Projects

The community day locally was part of similar activities by all 119 chapters of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity in the United States and Canada, all of which engaged in similar community projects in 119 cities the same day.

There was some local aid by alumni members of the fraternity. President Cooper said the chapter and international fraternity plan to make "Community Service Day" an annual custom in every city where a chapter has been established. He added that "Phi Delta Theta's membership of 60,000 has bound itself to get into the ranks of civic effort on every level so that collegians can help to meet the general problems of the United States and Canada in times of stress and great welfare effort."

Anzengruber Will Need "Long Care"

Paul E. "Bud" Anzengruber, proprietor of the Blue Parrot Tea Room, who suffered a broken back and a cerebral concussion April 14 when his front station wagon wheel locked and upset the vehicle, is reported today to be a "little bit improved" at the Warner hospital.

The attending surgeon said that Anzengruber's condition is such that it will require "long term care." There has been no motion in his toes since the accident.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

C. Paul Cessna, alumni secretary of Gettysburg College, has been discharged from the Warner Hospital after being a patient there for some time. Dr. D. C. Stoner, his physician, said that he had improved sufficiently to be removed to his home providing the "same strict rules of rest and quiet be observed." For another several weeks Mr. Cessna will not be allowed any visitors.

G. J. WEBSTER WILL BE CHEST CAMPAIGN AIDE

The Gettysburg Community Chest meeting Monday evening at the engine house named Gordon J. Webster, Buford Ave., controller at the Gettysburg Furniture Factories, as assistant fund drive chairman this year. Following the custom of the Chest, he will step up to vice president and fund drive chairman next year.

LeRoy E. Smith, vice president and fund chairman this year, will step up to the presidency next year. During the next several weeks a committee headed by Frank Bowser will contact a number of local industries to determine the possibility of Community Chest conducting a fund campaign within the industries.

Chest President John C. "Buck" Stahl told the board that in other communities a major part of the annual Community Chest drive is conducted through the plants. Many install payroll deduction systems.

Seek More Agents

Kenneth Dengler, chairman of a committee seeking additional agencies to join the Community Chest, reported that preliminary steps have been taken to include the Salvation Army.

There was considerable discussion concerning the possibility that the Gettysburg Recreation Association may become entirely or partially self-supported with resultant changes in its relations with Community Chest.

A recommendation of the records and accounting committee was adopted which brought about these results: The secretary and treasurer will be one position. A new card index system will be set up for records covering a ten-year period. A new bookkeeping system will be established. The present plan of having both the First National Bank of Gettysburg and the Gettysburg National Bank serve as depositories will change. The First National will be the depository for the next four years after which the Gettysburg National will serve in that capacity for four years, and so on.

The change was made to facilitate the keeping of records, which are now divided between the two banks, board members said.

YOUNG DRIVER HURT IN CRASH

Robert D. Yohe, 19, of 419 Pine St., Hanover, was in a "satisfactory" condition at the Warner Hospital this afternoon following an auto accident two miles east of here on the Hanover Rd. at 7:25 o'clock this morning.

State police said Yohe, an employee of the firm constructing the wing to the Warner Hospital, was on his way to work when he lost control of his car and the vehicle broke of a telephone pole and then rolled over.

A passing motorist, according to police, brought Yohe to the hospital where he was admitted as a patient. He suffered a cerebral concussion, multiple lacerations of the right chest and right foot.

Police estimated the damage at $1200 to the pole and to the car, which was demolished. Gettysburg firemen were called when fire started around the engine of the wrecked car. Damage from fire was slight, however.

4-Year-Old Boy Runs Into Car; Is Injured

Randall Dillon, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dillon, Biglerville R. 2, suffered a possible fractured skull and a leg and nose bruises when the child ran into the side of a car on a rural road a half-mile east of Arendtsville, according to state police.

Police said Patsy Ann Adams, 22, Gettysburg R. 2, was driving by the Dillon home when the child, playing with friends near his home, ran into the road. Miss Adams drove the child to the Warner Hospital where he was admitted as a patient.

AAA MOTOR CLUB TO BE EXPANDED AND MODERNIZED

Plans for a major expansion and modernization of the American Automobile Association Motor Club facilities and services in Gettysburg were announced today by Richard C. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the AAA Pennsylvania Motor Federation, with which the Gettysburg Motor club is affiliated.

"The expansion is made necessary by the growing popularity and national significance and importance of Gettysburg as a national shrine, the home of President and Mrs. Eisenhower and the steadily increasing number of tourists to his historic community each year," Mr. Maxwell said.

"At the same time increases in the number of motorists and AAA members in this area, the state and nation have made it necessary that the local club expand and offer all AAA services and facilities," Maxwell added.

General Improvement

Charles E. Pugh, assistant manager of the PMP, who will be in charge of the re-organization and expansion of the local club, said the offices in Lincoln Square will be remodeled and repainted; new furniture will be installed; new lighting fixtures placed; modern travel displays set up at regular intervals and the services expanded generally.

During the renovation Mrs. Millicent Prowell will be in charge of the AAA offices which will be moved to the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg. On June 15 Miss Betty Bishop will join the staff.

During the summer AAA travel consultant service and club promotion representatives will come to Gettysburg for periodic conferences and training sessions.

Secretary To Assist

Miss Helen "Tom" Spangler, who has been associated with the local club for the past 28 years as secretary, will leave the organization but she will assist in the reorganization work.

"There are few secretaries in our AAA motor clubs who have served longer, or who have been as faithful in their attention to the needs of their members than has Miss Spangler," Mr. Maxwell said. "All of us in the PMP and AAA wish her every success and happiness in the future."

Assisting in the development of plans for the remodeling and expansion program are motor club officials and experts of the American Automobile Association and the Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

While the Gettysburg Motor Club of Adams County will not lose its identity as such, it will be operated as a branch of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation because of the enlarged scope of operations and travel services.

THERAPIST TO EXPLAIN WORK IN BROADCAST

The work of the county speech and hearing therapists in helping youngsters to correct stuttering will be outlined in a broadcast over WGET this evening at 7:15 o'clock.

Miss Joan Simmons, speech therapist for the county's schools, will speak as will two youngsters from the county's schools who stutter. In pointing out that "there are as many causes for stuttering as there are stutters" Miss Simmons has each of the youngsters read a passage in which their type of stuttering is demonstrated.

Then, noting that stutters can sing or read in unison without stuttering, she has the two youths read together.

In her talk Miss Simmons will emphasize that "in order to help people who stutter we must help them gain self-assurance, and lose their fear of stuttering. Much stuttering is caused by the attempts of the stutters to avoid stuttering. Many stutters are caused by well meaning parents or friends who, hearing a child hesitate or stutter, call his attention to the fact. As he becomes more self-conscious, he stutters more frequently. All children stutter or have hesitations of speech generally between the ages of four and six. That is normal, and should be accepted as such."

Jury Of Ten Men, 2 Women Retire This Afternoon To Deliberate Gingell Verdict

The George W. Gingell murder case which got underway a week ago today in Adams County Court was placed in the hands of the jury for a verdict this afternoon.

Taking of testimony was completed this morning and Defense Attorney Edwin Nikirk had completed a dramatic 80-minute final appeal to the jury in Gingell's behalf before court recessed at noon.

When court re-convened at 1:30 p.m. District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter began his final summation and the court's charge to the jury on points of law followed.

Nikirk told the jury this morning: "George Gingell did what any other reasonable man would have done under the same circumstances. If you convict him for any degree of homicide, you are putting a premium on evil. Send George Gingell back to his wife and family," he concluded, pounding the rail of the jury box for emphasis.

He repeated what he had told the jury when the defense opened its case last Saturday afternoon: "Lee Mainer was dedicated to evil. He was the architect and the designer of the setting for his departure from this life."

ALL OFFICERS OF SEMINARY BOARD RENAMED

Dr. Chester G. Simonton, York, was re-elected president of the board of directors of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary for a sixth term this morning at the annual meeting of the board held in the board rooms in the Church of the Abiding Presence on the seminary campus.

Dr. E. Roy Hauser, Clearfield, was renamed vice president; Rev. Raymond M. Miller, Baltimore, secretary, and the Gettysburg National Bank, treasurer.

Most of the morning session was devoted to presentation of reports by the officers and committees and Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the seminary.

Fill Two Vacancies

This afternoon the board was scheduled to act on a replacement for Dr. Abdel Ross Wenz, who retires this year as an active member of the faculty, and the selection of a candidate to fill a new professorship.

The board considered methods of expediting the program of internships for seminary students. This year 16, or one-half the class, are taking a year's work in the field, as aides to pastors or other church work, between their second and last year at the seminary.

The auxiliary of the seminary was praised for its work during the year, which included the refurbishing and repainting of the interior of the chapel, to be done this summer.

Dr. Baughman this morning recommended that a committee of board and faculty members be appointed to study the future program of ministerial education and that the supporting synods be requested to cooperate in the study through assignment of representatives. The need for such a study has been brought about by the fact that "at the present time the calls from the Church for pastors are not being met by the supply coming from the seminaries, Dr. Baughman said.

New Congregations

"The establishment of new congregations, the expansion of congregational programs, the development of new fields, all are multiplying the calls. As the Social Security program develops there will be more vacancies created by retirement of pastors. The vigorous program of evangelism will result in larger memberships and more calls. These factors suggest a study dealing with certain questions. Is the present trend likely to continue? Should the church plan to enlist and prepare more candidates for the ministry? Shall there be a different program of recruitment? Shall the Church prepare to increase its teaching staff and general facilities? What changes should be made in the training program?"

Blaine W. Hughes Shows Improvement

Blaine W. Hughes, Guernsey, general manager of the Duffy-Mott Company, Inc. processing plant, who suffered torn ligaments in both legs in an accident at his stables some time ago, is reported improving.

Mr. Hughes is able to work several hours daily at his office. Both legs are in braces and he walks with the aid of crutches.

He operates Crestwood stables, the county's newest riding academy catering to adults and children. Horses and ponies are available by the hour. Pony rides in a ring are available on Saturdays and Sundays, with or without an attendant. Five horses and three ponies are stabled at Crestwood.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAYS

Jacob Britcher, Baltimore St., and Robert Codori, E. Broadway, celebrated birthday anniversaries today.

RIFLE CLUB TO MEET

The Gettysburg Junior Rifle Club will meet this evening at 7 o'clock in the Eddie Plank gymnasium, College Campus.

He pointed to witness after witness who had told of Mainer's "bad" reputation and contrasted him with the defendant, "a man with an impeccable record, a businessman with a fine family and with a splendid reputation for peace, order and quiet. There is not one splinter of evidence in this case that George Gingell brought about the conditions that resulted in Mainer's death. He's not a fighting man but a peaceful law-abiding citizen."

"He was under apprehension, under fear for his life, the lives of his family and the sanctity of his home. George did what I think any man on this jury or in this courtroom would have done under the same circumstances."

BISHOP - ELECT IS CONSECRATED THIS MORNING

HARRISBURG (AP) — The pastor of a Mount Carmel church became a bishop of the Roman Catholic Church here today in a solemn ceremony of color and pageantry in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Bishop Lawrence F. Schott took his holy vows, giving him the highest priestly powers in the church, during a three-hour rite that dates back through the ages in its origin.

An estimated 1,200 persons, most of them members of religious orders, crowded the flower-decked, marble interior of the downtown Harrisburg cathedral for the ceremony.

500 Stand Outside
Another 500 stood outside the church to watch the bishop-elect and his entourage walk in procession from the church rectory to the church.

Television cameras ground away outside and inside the church in recording the first consecration of a bishop held in the cathedral since it was erected in 1907.

Some 70 monsignors filled the first dozen pews of the church to create for the rear church spectators a crimson blanket in their bright colored vestments.

The Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of Harrisburg, consecrated the new bishop.

Bishop Schott replied to the sacred vows in a deep, clear voice that could be heard throughout the church.

Assistant To Bishop
The 51-year-old prelate will serve as assistant to Bishop Leech but will continue to reside in Mount Carmel for the present.

On his elevation to the "highest fullness as a priest of the Catholic Church," Bishop Schott becomes the first auxiliary bishop in Harrisburg since Bishop Leech left that post in 1935.

Co-consecrators are the Most Rev. Michael J. Ready, Columbus, Ohio, and the Most Rev. James A. McNulty, Paterson, N.J.

In a sermon prepared for delivery at the ceremony, the most Rev. John F. O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia, said the priest must offer, Mass, rule, preach and baptize but a bishop must also judge, interpret, consecrate, ordain and confirm.

"Right To Many Graces"
The three-fold office of teacher, priest and shepherd, carries with it a grace of state as well as a right to many graces.

"And even as Christ loved the church and delivered himself up for it," the archbishop continued, "so must his representative leave himself so utterly in the hands of Divine Providence that whether he lives for Christ or dies for His holy name is a small matter. Conformity to the holy will of God is the great matter."

Floral bouquets decorated the three altars in the marble interior of the vast cathedral and rich oriental rugs covered the sanctuary floor for the occasion.

Ordained In 1935
The new bishop was ordained a priest in 1906, and named a monsignor in November, 1932.

He was named a titular bishop last March 7 by Pope Pius XII and today marks his assumption of the full powers of priesthood.

The office of Bishop, from the standpoint of priestly powers, is the highest in the Roman Catholic Church. The offices of cardinal and pope are honorary offices.

The 70-voice choir of St. Charles' Seminary, Overbrook, sang the hymns under the direction of Msgr. James A. Boylan.

Many Dignitaries Present
Listed among those who came from throughout Pennsylvania and other states to attend the ceremony are 4 archbishops, 21 bishops, 60 monsignors, 250 priests and at least 200 nuns of many orders.

Those on the consecration committee were:

Msgr. Peter S. Huegel, Harrisburg; Msgr. Joseph J. Schweich, Lancaster; Msgr. Joseph A. Schmidt, Carlisle; Msgr. Robert A. Maher, Harrisburg; Very Rev. John E. Metz, Harrisburg; Rev. Anthony J. Mayan, Hershey; Rev. Francis J. Dinkel, Mount Carmel; Rev. Michael N. Menko, Steelton; Rev. Leo J. Krichen, Bonneauville, Pa.; Rev. Charles F. Murray, Oakleigh; Rev. Martin L. Lochmuller, Dun can on; Rev. Stephen J. Hribick, Harrisburg; Rev. Damian E. McGovern, Harrisburg; Rev. George W. Rost, Harrisburg; and Rev. Daniel Mennitt, Hershey.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Subversive Activities Control Board today suspended consideration of all cases pending before it. The action was taken because of the Supreme Court decision in the Communist party case.

SACB Chairman Thomas Herbert said the board must give "careful consideration" to procedural problems presented by the high court decision.

In the 6-3 decision yesterday, which brought vigorous dissent from three justices, the court decided that the board considered a finding that the U. S. Communist party is controlled by Moscow.

URGE FARMERS TO SPRAY CROPS FOR SPITTLEBUG

Adams County farmers were warned today that it is time to spray hay crops for spittlebug control. The spray should be completed before more than eight inches of growth shows.

County Agent Frank S. Zettie, in urging the spray, said, "On alfalfa you may have both spittlebugs and alfalfa weevil. While both insects are present the use of 1 1/2 pints of liquid emulsion heptachlor per acre should be used. If spittlebug is the only insect present then you may use any of the insecticides recommended for use on clover.

"However, it is doubtful if the spittlebug application will hold the alfalfa weevil. Therefore keep close observations on the alfalfa starting about ten days after spittlebug spray. If weevil damage starts to occur make an application of one pint of heptachlor per acre. If aphids should be present at this time omit the heptachlor and use either a 25 per cent parathion or a 50 per cent emulsion of malathion at the rate of one pint per acre. Allow ten days for heptachlor, seven days for malathion, or 20 days for parathion before harvesting or pasturing.

Other Suggestions
"On clover spittlebug control can be gained by using any one of the following amounts of materials per acre: one quart of a 10-12 per cent gamma benzene hexachloride; 1 1/2 pints of heptachlor 2-E; one pint of a 20 per cent emulsion Lindane, or one quart of a 60 per cent toxaphene."

Zettie noted that benzene hexachloride should be avoided on fields that will be planted to root or processing crops and should not be used closer than 30 days before harvest. Toxaphene should not be used closer than 40 days prior to harvest.

With low volume weed type sprayers growers should use 20 or more gallons of spray per acre at a pressure of 40 to 80 pounds, Zettie said.

"SOJOURN TO A PARK"

It doesn't cost a single cent . . . and yet it's lots of fun . . . to take a walk out to a park . . . and bask in God's warm sun . . . for where the grass and flowers grow . . . is joy beyond compare . . . Dame Nature has a magic way . . . of freeing us from care . . . with trees and birds that gayly sing . . . a joyful kind of song . . . I'm prone to think that such a setting . . . cannot foster wrong . . . when nerves are somewhat shaky . . . a sojourn to a park . . . can somehow calm the most disturbed . . . with hope's immortal spark . . . so when in search of solace . . . go there and you will find . . . the treasure you are seeking . . . flavored with peace of mind . . . it doesn't cost a single cent . . . and yet it's lots of fun . . . to take a walk out to a park . . . and bask in God's warm sun.

COUNTY BOARD

several years ago the majority of the boards favored dividing the present three into two, and that was adopted as the county plan for school development.

The board voted to table the request for a survey for the time being.

The general discussion indicated that the only change in the situation in the eastern part of the county is that East Berlin is negotiating with Bermudian Springs.

Paradise Twp. was reported as desiring to enter the Lower Adams jointure, but has no release from York County. Paradise is now part of the Conewago joint school system. There has been no action by Conewago to disband, and the discussion led to the belief that Conewago jointure will continue to function much as it is for at least another year, because any change would necessitate new construction which could not be completed by fall. Even if much of Conewago joint school system should join Administrative Unit No. 2, the East Berlin and York Springs High Schools would have to function for possibly several years until a new high school was built.

If Administrative Unit No. 2 should be established the new high school would be located on one of several sites on the York Springs—Cross Keys Road (Route 94) between "Round Hill and Sinking Springs Creek."

Letters were read from Conewago Twp. and McSherrytown stating that neither school system plans to become part of the Littlestown Joint School System. The two had been questioned because in the county plan for school development had been placed in the Littlestown joint system. With Littlestown seeking a high school addition the state department of public instruction had asked for a definite, "in writing" decision by Conewago Twp. and McSherrytown on their plans.

Progress was reported on the survey of handicapped children in the county. Superintendent Riegler said several districts have already completed the survey and that is expected the other jointures will have their reports for the county board by the end of this month.

Approval was given to transportation contracts between the Upper Adams Joint School system and Roy Martin at the rate of $14.71 per day for one bus and George W. Weaver and Son at a rate of $26.65 per day for two buses.

The two contracts replace one contract with Roy Martin for $41.36 per day for three buses. The county superintendent said the new contracts simply represent sale by Martin of two of his buses to the Weavers.

Barkley

played again a part he almost owned—keynoting a Democratic convention.

His speech was the real Barkley — sprinkled with quips, praise for the Democrats and arid digs at Republicans past and present. It was all extemporaneous. He had spoken for about 20 minutes in the hot, stuffy gymnasium when he collapsed, toppling a microphone as he fell.

Barkley came to Washington 34 years ago as a member of the House of Representatives. Later he was elected to the Senate, where he became majority leader.

He resigned his Senate seat in 1949 to take office as vice president. He tried briefly for the presidential nomination of his party in 1952 but failed, then ran for the Senate and was elected.

His death brought expressions of grief from President Eisenhower and members of both parties.

Eisenhower said "the nation is poorer" for his death: "As vice president of the United States, member of Congress and senator from Kentucky, Mr. Barkley had a long and distinguished record of public service for the people of his state and country."

Vice President Nixon said Barkley "was loved and respected by those who were privileged to know him, regardless of their partisan affiliations. He was, and always will remain in the hearts of the American people, the one and only Veep."

Mrs. Barkley, his second wife, whom he married in 1949, was driven to Washington last night by a state trooper with Mrs. Francis P. Gaines, wife of the Washington and I-ee president, as her companion.

Surviving also are a son, David Murrell Barkley of Paducah, Ky., and two daughters, Mrs. Laura Louise MacArthur II and Mrs. Maud O'Rell Truitt, both of Washington.

and asked McClellan to go along. "When I wouldn't go along he cuffed me a little" and a bystander intervened.

Lee Willis, bartender at the Blue Duck; Officer James Treas, who had testified before, and Officer Frank Yercavage, the 10th state policeman called in the case, took the stand but sidebar conferences cut short their testimony. The Commonwealth rested its case at 10:30 a.m. and the court recessed for 15 minutes.

Expected Murder Attempt

George Gingell was on the stand for nearly three hours Monday morning after half of that time under cross-examination by District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter. He held fast to his story that he feared Mainer so greatly that he expected Mainer to attempt to kill him that night. Gingell said Mainer's words did not anger him but that it was fear that prompted him to fire once over Mainer's head "to show him I meant business" and a second time "to stop him."

"I never intended to kill him," Gingell told the district attorney. "I was afraid to shoot and afraid not to shoot. I knew I had to shoot right at him to make him stop." Gingell said he did not "sight or draw a bead on him" but did fire with the gun at his shoulder.

Gingell said he had not called on any friends at the inn for assistance. "Everybody was nearly as afraid of him as I was."

The district attorney patiently went over every step in Gingell's story of the events leading up to and including the shooting. He questioned Gingell at length as to why he had not attempted to leave the inn secretly and go home. Gingell said he "didn't know unless it was because I'm not accustomed to going out windows." He said he tried once to leave his refuge in the storage room via the bar but, Mainer was there to block his way. He said he "didn't think about hiding."

"I'll Watch You Die"

When Mainer came to the back door of the inn and repeated threats and curses Gingell reached for the gun. "I didn't know whether the door was locked and I knew a locked door didn't mean a thing to him. I saw one he went through," Gingell repeated his only purpose was to go home. "After what he (Mainer) said about my family I knew home was where I ought to be."

Gingell said he had no recollection of a conversation with Mrs. Troxell about the gun and did not remember giving her any shotgun shells as she had testified.

When Gingell went out in the darkness with the gun, he said he did not know where Mainer was but soon saw him and Mainer resumed his oral abuses. Then Gingell quoted Mainer as saying: "I'll kill you, I'll watch you die." It was the first time he had given those words on the stand.

Gingell told the jury Mainer was "taller and broader than I am and about the same weight, 190 pounds." He said he felt his second shot hit Mainer because "he seemed to double up a little."

Troxell told him a few minutes later that Mainer "was hit pretty good."

"Was Not Calm"

Gingell denied he was calm before or after the shooting as other witnesses had said. "I may have looked calm but I wasn't," he said. Gingell was questioned briefly again by defense counsel about an incident at Tract Inn early in February when Gingell and Mainer had met there and there had been cursing and threats by Mainer. Earlier Gingell had said there were no threats in his presence until March 24 and he explained the omission of the February incident as a "slip of memory."

Admits 6 Convictions

Next among the 16 defense witnesses called Monday was Earl Hardman, Fairfield, R. 1, who testified to the February incident at the Tract Inn and said Gingell told him afterwards "Earl, I'm so scared I don't know what I'm going to do." Hardman said Mainer was known as a "dangerous character."

He said Gingell's reputation is "good for peace, order and quiet." Under cross-examination Hardman admitted some differences with Mainer.

Since lack of knowledge is the primary reason in some types of scalp disorder, free advice and counsel are being offered to the citizens of Gettysburg, Pa.

Yes, Merrill has been helping hair worried men and women of your city for several years now and come back regularly to counsel with them and check on their progress and results. This particular visit should be of great interest to you if you are in the category of "concerned" about your hair and scalp, for we are fortunate to have one of our leading consultants in both the U.S. and Canada, that will not only check with present Merrill clients as to their progress but will also consult with new clients concerning their disorders of their scalp.

You see, the only time new clients are accepted for consultation is when enough of the present clients have been dismissed with the desired permanent results to allow enough time for the consultant to accept new clients. The statements offered below with addresses attached were given freely by grateful clients of the American Trichological Association. They are repeated here because Merrill realizes there has been so much abuse and deception practiced regarding the hair and scalp, Merrill feels it necessary to offer proof of its seemingly miraculous results. (We do not reveal names of former clients without their express permission) However, we do have many more amazing results of clients that have been gracious enough to permit their use. These will be made available for your scrutiny upon your visit to our Consultant.

"I have been told that you can not grow hair on a bald scalp. Merrill is doing it! The treatment should go on the records as the greatest discovery of all times."

Ernest Johnson

"It will be one year next month when I started with the treatment. I now have a nice growth of hair and very little gray considering my age. During those early weeks it was some effort, but now I am glad I was so faithful. Thought you would like to know how pleased I am."

M. E. Bernheisel
West Palm Beach, Fla.

"My hair is in better condition than at any time since 1919. It is now so dry as it was and the wave seems to be coming back in it. It is now so thick near the scalp it is difficult to reach the scalp with a brush."

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Notes About A Great Disaster:
Arrangements for the reconstruction of the new and greater San Francisco are rapidly crystallizing and soon the sounds of building will be heard in every block of the devastated area.

Orders were given last week to go ahead with the work of building. "Build fast," was the order, and this means the expenditure of every possible energy that money can purchase for the construction of the building.

The whole habitable part of San Francisco has been organized and districted for sanitary inspection purposes in the most thorough manner.

The big fire has obliterated California from San Francisco forever.

Died From Burns: The five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Herring, of Orrtanna, was so severely burned on Saturday, April 21st, as to cause her death the following day.

Mrs. Herring was washing and had kindled fire under a kettle near the house. The interesting little daughter was playing about, and wandered too near the flames, and it being very windy, her clothes took fire, burning her in an awful manner.

Dr. N. C. Trout, of Fairfield, was summoned, but his skilled efforts proved of no avail and she died as above stated.

Deaths And Funerals: M'Bride — Mrs. Mary C. McBride, widow of the late Anthony McBride, died at her home in Emmitsburg, on April 25th, aged 87 years, 6 months and 3 days. Deceased is survived by three daughters — Mrs. E. S. Taney and Misses Annie and Estella McBride, all of Emmitsburg.

Timbers: Grace, daughter of Andrew and Mary Timbers, died on Saturday at her home on Washington St., aged 7 years, 1 month and 2 days. This is the fifth child to have died within a year.

Arendt: John A. Arendt, a veteran of the Civil War died at his home on West street Friday, aged 87 years.

Deceased is survived by his wife and several children. He was born at Two Taverns and was a son of the late Joseph Arendt.

Will Undergo Operation: Miss Catharine Gintling, of Baltimore, daughter of Mrs. M. M. Gintling, of this place, will undergo an operation for appendicitis in that city today. Mrs. Gintling has gone to Baltimore.

Fell From Porch: Elizabeth, the interesting 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. McIlhenny, is carrying her left arm in a sling, caused by falling off the porch on last Thursday. The arm was badly sprained.

Wedding Bells: Mickle-Hoke — Guy Mickle, of the barber firm Myrtle Hoke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hoke, High street, surprised their many friends in this place by getting married quietly Thursday evening.

The couple were driven to the residence of Dr. T. C. Billheimer on Springs avenue in the early part of the evening and the ceremony was performed by that well-known clergyman prior to delivering his lecture on "The Holy Land." The bride was handsomely attired in an Alice blue suit. The newly wedded couple are two of Gettysburg's most popular young people and we join their many friends in wishing them happiness and prosperity.

They will reside, for a time, at the groom's home on N. Washington street.

Improvements: Samuel M. Bushman is having the exterior woodwork of the Masonic Building painted.

Frank Eberhart, owner of the Eagle Hotel, has had a new pavement laid on the South and West sides of the hotel, the front portion being of Mt. Holly brick.

Edward Weikert has had a new roof put on his house on E. Middle St.

HERITAGE OF ALL

How rich the poorest are! All outdoors is their garden, their sanctuary, and their Cathedral of Worship. The very richest would be poor indeed if they did not recognize this universal heritage that belongs to all.

I look out from my library room and I can truly say: These are my trees, my green grass, my small garden, my birds and their songs, my stars at night, and my enjoyment in the warm rays of the sun. But also they are all the heritage of everyone who may pause to look upon everything of wonder.

Our great art galleries, museums, and public libraries belong to all who will use them and gain richness of mind and heart from them. They are God's gifts to all. No individuals own the mountains, the rivers, and the sunsets. There is no entrance fee to the starry night.

What little I have gained in a lifetime of treasure hunting I own only as a custodian. Others loved them as I do. All art and beauty are interchangeable. I have an etching that five great collectors have owned. Now, with others, it has a permanent home in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., where thousands can take pleasure in viewing it.

There is nothing in this world so precious and priceless as freedom. It is the natural heritage of all who have been born to it. Free men and women have advantages, opportunities, and incentives that no one else has. They can be creative without interference. From the humblest of environment they can rise to the highest of honors. There are no book burnings in America!

The stories of Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and the Eisenhower brothers are typical. They knew poverty and struggle as thousands of others have, rising to their high and useful careers. Only in a free country could there be such a heritage.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Tranquillity"

MAY

May is beautiful to see:

Gentle, gracious and refined.

Friendly always tries to be.

Helpful to the old, and kind.

Others whisper at their care.

Sulkily they come and go.

May leaves blossoms everywhere.

May is sweet and good to know.

May will caper in the sun.

Dance with joy a gay quadrille:

She is glad to romp and run.

May is seldom still.

Want a song? Then come outside

Underneath the skies of blue.

May a chorus will provide

Who will sweetly sing for you.

May no sign of age displays.

Light her step and bright her smile;

Young she was and young she stays.

Time has never changed her style.

Some of her companions frown.

Some too cold and some too hot.

But when she trips into town

May is fairest of the lot.

Senator Barkley Was Denied His One Big Dream By Labor For Whom He Toiled So Long

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alben W. Barkley—a man of humor, balance and kindness—was one of those politicians who is widely beloved in his lifetime by his political friends and foes alike.

But when he said—it was the last thing he said—that he was content to accept a "seat in the back row" of political life, he was expressing a thought that had come to him late in life. He was accepting a reality forced upon him by his age—78.

He had wanted more than a back seat. He had been one of the great public servants of his time. He had been in Congress almost continuously since 1913. And he had a dream. Perhaps he alone knows how long he had it.

He wanted the presidency. But when at last he reached out, it eluded him.

Lost His Seniority
Yesterday, reviewing his career in an address at a student's mock Democratic convention at Washington and Lee University, he referred good-naturedly to the fact that he was the junior senator from Kentucky.

He had been senior senator for years but lost seniority when he gave up his Senate seat to be vice president from 1949 to 1953. When re-elected senator in 1954, he became junior to Kentucky's Sen. Earle C. Clements, who was elected in 1950.

Denied By Labor
Then — just before he dropped dead—Barkley said: "I am willing to be a junior. I am glad to sit on the back row, for I had rather be a servant in the house of the Lord than to sit in the seats of the mighty."

That was how he felt yesterday. But less than four years ago, at the 1952 Democratic convention in Chicago, he hoped briefly his party might nominate him for the presidency.

He was disillusioned fast. On the convention's opening day, organized labor leaders whom he had generally supported all through the Roosevelt and Truman administrations refused to consider him. Too old, they said.

A Vigorous Man
He was 74 then, and he felt fine. As he did most of his life. He was a vigorous man who had remarried at 71, a politician in the classic tradition: arm-waving, roaring and witty. Not long ago he said he had never had a headache in his life.

He was reportedly deeply hurt when the union leaders rejected him. If he had refused to face it within himself, he had to face it now: even his friends thought he was too old for the presidency.

But out of his disappointment, no matter how bitter, he rose to what became perhaps the high point of his life.

Receives Long Ovation
Two days later, in the summer-bolling convention hall where the Democratic party had been almost torn apart in angry, factional dispute, Barkley went before the delegates with a rousing speech for unity.

The ovation when he finished new delivery wagon has been put into service by J. W. Garlach, proprietor of Eureka Bakery.

The work of sprinkling the streets started last week, which has afforded our citizens a great deal of relief. But until our streets are scraped it will be a hard matter to keep the dust down.

According to the Bureau on Entomology of the Department of Agriculture, in Washington, this section of Pennsylvania is to be visited next month by the 17-year and 13-year locusts.

U. S. TELLS REDS NOT TO COERCE ITS REFUGEES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has told the Communists it won't tolerate pressure on Iron Curtain refugees to give up sanctuary in this country.

The State Department handed Red Poland's ambassador Romuald Spasowski a note yesterday accusing him and other Polish officials of abusing their diplomatic status. It said they were trying to pressure Polish refugees in this country into returning behind the Iron Curtain. The note demanded: Stop it at once.

Spasowski indicated Poland would make a formal reply. He said that in the case of three Polish seamen who gave up U. S. sanctuary and went home last fall, the seamen approached the embassy first.

"Unsolicited" Visits
The U. S. note declared Polish diplomats had made "unsolicited personal visits" as part of a campaign to coerce Polish nationals out of their U. S. asylum.

The note said this country respects the right of all aliens to seek voluntary repatriation and reaffirmed belief in the right of foreign diplomatic missions to make normal contact with their nationals.

But it rejected as undemocratic and beyond accepted diplomatic practice any coercive practice to make aliens quit the United States. It listed among such techniques the use of letters from relatives back home. And it told Poland to "cease immediately the objectionable practice of unsolicited personal visits" in furtherance of the Polish government's repatriation campaign.

Expel Two Reds
Just last week this country expelled two Russians attached to the Soviet Union's United Nations delegation on the ground that they had exceeded their authority in helping five Soviet seamen to return home.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which has been inquiring into the case of those five as well as four others who remain in this country, heard one of the four in secret session late yesterday.

He was Viktor Solovyev, who previously had testified publicly but who returned to tell of incidents he said had slipped his mind then.

A transcript of his testimony, made public by the subcommittee after the closed-door session, quoted him as saying two Soviet agents threatened him April 5 in a locked New York hotel room. He said he tricked them into leaving.

put of B52 all-jet intercontinental bombers.

The class of the Junior Department of Redeemer's Sunday School, taught by Mrs. Robert H. Miller, visited with Lone Star Synch, Gettysburg R. D., Sunday. The visit was made during the Sunday School and worship hours. Lone Star told the group Indian stories, sang songs, and foretold futures.

A gift was presented to her by the children. Those who made the visit were: Mrs. Miller, class teacher; Theron J. Basehoar, department superintendent; Linda Frock, Terry Arbogast, Steven Basehoar, Ann Kroh, Gail Reindollar, Edward Gelman Jr., John Stambaugh, and Edward Koontz.

Bullets Sink The Navy 9-6 In 14-Inning Struggle; Bierly Hurls All Way; Face Lehigh

With several major league scouts watching his performance, Joe Bierly, lanky Gettysburg College right-hander, hurled the entire way as the Bullets capitalized on a Middle error in the 14th inning to tally three runs and take a 9-6 victory over Navy in a 3 hour 40 minute affair Monday at Annapolis.

Bierly, who had been Coach "Hen" Bream's ace relief man while rounding into condition during the past several weeks, yielded but seven hits, struck out six and walked only one. He appeared to grow stronger as the game progressed and fanned the final two batsmen.

It was a tense battle all the way with the Bullets finally breaking the game wide open in the top of the 14th.

Winning Rally

With one out Joe Foulk, batting for Jack Bream, walked. Bierly singled with Foulk streaking to third. Vince Scolia walked to load the paths. Art Hendley then tapped a slow bouncer to third base but Stewart's toss to home struck Foulk in the hand and bounced away. Foulk and Bierly scoring. Ken Polak then drove a long fly to center after which Scolia tallied.

Both team tallied runs in the third inning. The Bullets scored on an error and singles by Scolia and Hendley. Dick Snyder rapped a homerun for Navy in his half of the inning.

Fred Alleva's homerun to right field sent the locals ahead 2-1 in the fourth. Bierly was the victim of weak support in the fifth when Navy tallied four times on a trio of errors, three hits and a double steal of home and third base, respectively.

A walk to Polak, double by Frank Capitani and two wild pitches produced two runs in the sixth and the Bullets knotted the count at 5-5 in the seventh when Bream was safe on an error and scored on Scolia's third single.

Both Score In 13th

There was no more scoring until the 13th when Gettysburg picked up a run on a walk to Hendley, his steal of second base, and Capitani's safety. Navy came right back with a run on an error, sacrifice and fielder's choice.

The Bullets are now 7-3 for the season. They play at Lehigh Wednesday and host Elizabethtown here Friday.

Navy's record is now 8-4-1.

Mayfield Upset By Birth Of Daughter

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Shelley Mayfield, Long Island's most prominent pro golfer, is back from the winter tour $6,000 richer. That's about what he won playing in eight tournaments. He finished first by three strokes in the Baton Rouge Open and "in the money in all the others, but one," says Mayfield.

"I had good reason to miss getting some money in the Texas Open," says the handsome blonde who tied for eighth in the Masters with Ben Hogan and Tommy Bolt. "I played in that tournament right after my wife Sally presented me with a girl (Sally Ann). I guess I was too excited to play good golf."

The Mayfield heir was born in Seguin, Tex., 80 miles from where her father was born.

Mayfield will remain on Long Island most of the summer. He is pro at the Meadow Brook Club which opened last June.

Catches 10-Pound Fish Bare-handed

JENSEN BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A little brown paper and determination enabled a Jamaican, N. Y., vacationist to catch a 10-pound fish with his hands while surfing.

Alfred J. Whittle spied the husky crevalle jack, or bulldog fish, and seized it by the tail. The fish cut Whittle's hand. Fashioning a handgrip with brown paper he found on the beach, Whittle returned to the water and hauled his prize out within view of 150 spectators who had gathered to watch the proceedings.

Deer Undaunted By Air Rockets

ROY, N. M. (AP) — Ranchers Don Pritchard and J. O. Campsey complained to the State Game Department that deer were damaging wheat and trampling soil into dust.

The Wildlife Service provided aerial rockets to scare the deer. The deer got scared. But the second night, the deer were mildly startled, and the third night they apparently enjoyed the show.

Now the department has issued permits to the two ranchers so they can take 10 deer each, of either sex. The meat goes to the state school lunch program.

DUQUESNE CAGE ACE SELECTED BY ROCHESTER

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring-legged Sihugo Green, All-America forward of Duquesne, had the honor yesterday of being the first draft choice of the National Basketball Assn. but his selection by Rochester was thrust into the background by the activity of the Boston Celtics.

By virtue of their trade of Easy Ed Macaulay to St. Louis over the weekend, the Celtics were in position to acquire title to two of the country's top basketball players, Bill Russell and K. C. Jones, of the unbeaten San Francisco Dons at the annual draft meeting of the NBA.

The Celtics obtained the rights to Russell, called by many as the No. 1 college player in the country, with the transfer of Macaulay to St. Louis when the Hawks agreed to turn over their first draft choice to Boston. The Celtics, who earlier had selected Tom Heinsohn of Holy Cross as a territorial choice, picked Russell, then chose Jones as their next choice.

The availability of Russell and Jones—if and when they decide to become professionals—will not become determined until late December. The pair are members of the U. S. Olympic squad. When they return in December — two months after the opening of the NBA season, they may decide to cast their lot with the Harlem Globetrotters instead of the Celtics. Both are being coveted by Abe Saperstein, owner of the Trotters.

The Philadelphia Warriors picked Hal Lear of Temple, Phil Rollins of Louisville, Bevo Francis of Rio Grande, Phil Wheeler of Cincinnati, Joe Belmont of Duke, Mickey Winograd of Duquesne (sold to St. Louis) and John Pannon of Notre Dame.

Syracuse got Joe Holup, George Washington player from Swoyersville, Pa., as his first pick.

Other first choices were: Ronnie Shavlik, N. C. State, New York; Ron Sobieschky, DePaul, Fort Wayne, and Jim Paxson, Dayton, Minneapolis.

A double error on a pickoff play at first base enabled York Springs High School to nip Fairfield 2-1 in a 10-inning Adams County League game Monday at York Springs. The game was transferred to York Springs due to the Fairfield diamond being too wet for play.
Merle Runmeyer, first batter for York Springs in the last of the 10th inning, walked and when Eddie Spence threw wildly to first base on a pickoff, another miscue was committed by Sam Scott, Runmeyer reaching third base from where he scored on Harold Griffie's grounder.
Bob Megonnell hurled the route to the winners and fanned 11. Scott pitched the first five frames for Fairfield with Spence finishing. York Springs tallied a run in the

Cardinals Continue Their Power Against Lefties By Blanking Milwaukee Braves

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press
Here's some free advice to National League managers: Cease sending southpaws to the mound against the St. Louis Cardinals.

In first place today as the season's first interseasonal struggles got under way, the Cards owed their success to their new-found ability to fathom the southpaw jinx.

In nine games, opposing managers have started five southpaws against Fred Hutchinson's predominantly left-handed hitting lineup. Only one — Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall on opening day — has been able to go the route against them. Not one of them has been able to beat them.

4 To 1 Record
Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, one of the league's better left-handers, has failed to finish in two starts against St. Louis. So has Cincinnati's Pat Scanlenburg. Spahn was the victim last night as the Cardinals shut out the Braves 2-0 in the day's only activity to take over first place by 31 percentage points over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Braves dropped out of the top spot into third place, a game behind the leaders.

JOHNNY BUSSO BEATS ZULUETA

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Busso, an aggressive lightweight from New York's East Side, one-time breeding ground of great 135-pounders, was ready to move into fast company today.

The 21-year-old New Yorker racked up his fifth straight and most important victory of his brief career last night when he won a split decision over veteran Orlando Zulueta in a televised 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

As a reward for his upset over the 2-1 favored Cuban matchmaker Teddy Brenner he might match Busso with Ralph Dupas, a c o n d-ranking lightweight contender from New Orleans, on June 4 or 11.

Referee Davey Feld (6-4) and Judge Artie Schwartz (6-31) voted for Busso. Judge Frank Forbes had Zulueta ahead 6-4. The AP card had Busso in front 6-3-1.

Busso now has a 26-3-1 record, including 12 knockouts. Zulueta's record is 56-27-10 and that includes two decisions over champion Wallace (Bud) Smith before Smitty won the lightweight title.

Zulueta weighed 139 1/2 to Busso's 138.

St. Louis' record against left-handers this season is four victories and one defeat. The only southpaw to earn a decision over the Cards has been Milwaukee's Lou Sleater. Last year, the Cards finished in seventh place chiefly because of the southpaw jinx. Left-handers beat them 46 times while losing only 29. Right-handers barely edged them out, 40 victories to 39.

You couldn't blame Spahn much for yesterday's loss. The veteran Brave permitted only three hits before he retired for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning — none until two out in the seventh.

Then, just when the Milwaukee gathering of 6,090 — smallest since the Braves came to Milwaukee in 1953 — began thinking seriously of a no-hitter, the Cards' bats began to ring. Three successive singles — by Ken Boyer, Rip Repulski and Wally Moon — and the Redbirds led 1-0. St. Louis picked up an insurance run in the ninth on Red Schoendienst's single, a sacrifice, a fielder's choice and Johnny Logan's fumble of Joe Frazier's grounder.

Three pitchers collaborated to hold the Braves runless. They were Tom Poholsky, Jackie Colburn and Ellis Kinder.

FAVOR NEEDLES IN KENTUCKY DERBY CLASSIC

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Needles, a strapping bay colt with Kentucky, Florida, Oklahoma and Tennessee connections, remained the solid favorite for the 82nd running of the Kentucky Derby today as 11 other 3-year-old horses placed their Derby credentials on the line in the $10,000 trial at Churchill Downs.

For at least four—C. V. Whitney's Head Man, Fabius from Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, Joe Gavegnano's High King and No Regrets, W. E. Britt's California Derby winner, the trial was just a chance to get in their last serious workout. They'll go Saturday regardless of today's performance, along probably with Countermarch from Don Ross' Brandywine stable.

For the others, however, it was put up or shut up. The group included Invalidate, How Blue, Roman Fan, Black Emperor, Ebony Beauty and Lover's Aid—stablemate of Swaps, last year's Derby winner.

Meantime, Ben Jones, winner of six Derbies and trainer of Fabius, withheld final decision on whether Calumet's other hopeful, Pintor Lea, would be in Saturday's field. Within the last 24 hours the son of Goya II has showed signs of recovering from a leg injury. The test will come tomorrow when he has a good stiff workout.

Quentin Stahl, 19, a former lineman on the University of Detroit and Johnsonburg High School football teams, was killed Saturday at Johnsonburg when his motorcycle spun out of control and hurled a guard rail.

Samuel H. Jones, 35, of Harrisburg was electrocuted Saturday helping to open a clogged drain in a neighbor's basement.

Plane Crashes On Takeoff; Two Killed

STANFORD, England (P) — A transport plane loaded with British servicemen, their wives and children, bound to strife-torn Cyprus crashed on takeoff Monday. Two persons, a serviceman and a child, were killed. Six were injured seriously.

The four-engine York plane, carrying 45 passengers and a crew of 5, rumbled off a shoulder of the runway at this Royal Air Force field and spun, crumpling under the strain. Five persons were trapped in the wreckage, but were freed quickly by firemen.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

COAL MINERS IN PENNSYLVANIA ARE DWINDLING

HARRISBURG (P) — The ranks of Pennsylvania's coal miners continue to dwindle.

In 1955, the number of miners in the soft coal fields dropped to 52,103, the least since 1886. In the anthracite region, the roster of miners fell to 37,397, the lowest figure since 1870.

The figures were made public Monday by the State Mines Department in its annual report covering 1955 production and safety statistics.

Bituminous coal counties produced 85,042,677 tons last year. That included 19,212,869 of strip-mined coal. There were 48 fatalities among the 52,103 employees, or 56 fatalities per million tons. The 56 fatality average is an all-time low in Pennsylvania, comparing with the next previous low of 63 in 1934 and the record high of 9.95 per million tons produced in 1877.

Good Production
Even though the number of employees fell to a 69-year low last year, production per man continued at a high level. In 1955, it amounted to 1,632 tons per man compared to 844 tons per man when the record high of 200,538 were employed in 1923.

The story was about the same in the anthracite region except on safety.

Hard coal production, confined principally to nine counties in northern Pennsylvania, ran 25,934,792 tons last year, the least since 1878. The 1955 figure included 7,836,029 in strip-mining coal and 3,618,121 in washery production. The 37,397 employees of last year was down from 44,731 the year before, 80,730 in 1946 and the all-time high of 180,899 in 1914.

Tonnage per man in the anthracite region amounted to 694 in 1955 compared to 47 in 1934. That jumped the fatality rate per million tons of production to 2.31, highest since 1947 and compared to 1.76 in 1954.

Making pot roast with onion, carrots and potatoes? Add chopped celery and green pepper, too, for fine flavor.

Whitey Ford of the Yankees has a 61-22 lifetime American League record but shows only four wins against five defeats in games against Boston.
